Employees of Johnson Controls to Help Clean Parks on Earth Day
Inaugural “Blue Sky Involve” Project in Milwaukee

WHO: Johnson Controls and Milwaukee County Department of Parks, Recreation and Culture

WHAT: Johnson Controls will execute its first-ever Blue Sky Involve Project in Milwaukee on Earth Day. Over 120 local Johnson Controls employees will help Milwaukee County Parks staff with clean-up and other seasonal maintenance to prepare local parks for the summer. Milwaukee County Parks will also receive a $1,000 grant from Johnson Controls for the partnership.

WHEN: Wednesday, April 22, 2015, at 10 a.m.

WHERE: Kletzsch Park - 6560 N Milwaukee River Pkwy, Glendale, WI

WHY: The event illustrates the way companies can get involved in team-building and leadership development during the celebration of Earth Day

BACKGROUND: Johnson Controls’ “Blue Sky Involve” is a global, employee-driven volunteer program which encourages partnerships with local non-profit organizations or schools to support environmental stewardship or social service efforts.

In 2014, 15,400 employees formed 1,000 project teams and volunteered 151,369 hours, with their selected organizations receiving $1 million in grants.

Since Blue Sky Involve launched in 2006, Johnson Controls employees have helped coordinate more than 7,000 projects and volunteered 973,969 hours of their time to local communities.
